

John Campanius Holm Award presented to Frank Christina, National Weather Service Cooperative Observer at Mount Shasta City

NWS Medford MIC John Lovegrove, left, presents the John Campanius Holm award to Frank Christina of Mount Shasta City, CA. Frank's exceptional efforts were recognized in letters of appreciation from the California Department of Water Resources and the California-Nevada River Forecast Center. He was also presented with a 25 Year Length of Service Award. Frank has proven his dedication through accurate, consistent and reliable observations over the years. His community relies upon this information through the local newspaper, and he is considered a climate expert for this area. In early 2010, his daily observations during a snowstorm helped the county receive assistance as part of a federal disaster declaration. Frank shows great pride in his work and it is a model of excellence.
